DRIFTS CHECK FIREMEN; HOME IS DESTROYED

Policeman's 'Bucket Brigade' Fails to Save Alabama Avenue Residence.

The home of John L. Gibson, an ex-policeman, living at 2215 Alabama avenue southeast, and its contents were destroyed by fire last night because the fire apparatus, owing to the impassable condition of the roads, were unable to reach the scene. Damage is estimated at $5,000. It was insured.

An alarm was sent in to No. 25 engine company, but the apparatus had not traveled half way to the blazing home when it became stalled in the snow. Another call was sent in and No. 8 engine company started toward the scene. It, too, became stalled and a third company was called out. When within half a mile of the burning dwelling the apparatus was put out of commission owing to the engine breaking down. Battalion Chief Carrington walked half a mile to a box and sent word to fire headquarters to the effect that it was useless to send out any more apparatus.

The battalion chief then commanded three policemen and a sergeant to the house and they did what they could with buckets of water to extinguish the flames. Their efforts were without avail, however.

The cause of the fire was attributed to an overheated stove.

The family, which was driven to the streets, was taken care of by hospital neighbors.

Fire Chief Watson said this morning that people living in the suburbs should exercise the great-

care during these days as it is sometimes impossible to get the apparatus to the scene of a fire in the outlying sections. He said a member of the family should make regular inspections of the house, particularly about the flues, to see to it that the building is not endangered by fire. When fire is first discovered it is usually easy to extinguish it with buckets of water.

NEEDY APPRAISER TAKES

$3,800 DIAMOND BROOCH

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 30.—Financial trouble induced Isadore Hart, of Bensonhurst, Long Island, an appraiser for a New York firm, to take a diamond brooch valued at $3,500 when he was sent to appraise the contents of the home of Thomas J. Swanton, a Rochester banker, last Monday, he told detectives here today.

He said he never before had been in trouble, but that the needs of his family and the sight of the brooch led him to commit the theft.

ALLURING "LUGGAGE"

LEAKS FROM TRUNK

SUNBURY, Pa., Jan. 31.—Something trickled out of a piece of baggage that was unloaded at the local passenger station yesterday on route from Wilkes-Barre to Williamsport.

Employees stooped at once to get a whiff of it and fell back dazed as their heads bumped together with a resounding whack. Some tried to scoop it up in their cupped hands. Police were called, but the running stream ceased, and it was agreed that the baggage owner was no longer transporting anything but glass. The trunk was sent on its way.

Another is the pretty basket weave, in a two-tone effect of bisque and brown, with plain brown trimmings. The third, one of the very newest ideas, is in navy blue, with a large block effect formed by a stripe of red or white. The Tuxedo model is in a fancy weave, with the full length collar and cuffs in plain weave—shown in all white or orchid.
